DIRECTOR'S NOTE

This show is a product of another era. It is interesting to see how much (and how little) has changed since it was first produced in 1966. We present the madcap, cartoonish actions of imperfect people in challenging situations. I think we can all relate to the sincerity at the heart of these characters. They try to do their best, often with disastrous (and hilarious) consequences. We hope you enjoy the ride!

Cori Veverka, director
